and the Elements. It goes forth the claim that when man was created he was given dominion over all things, the elements included; for above him and death when man sought to realize his own dominion he could control all the elements.
This is illustrated in the saying to Moses. Dost thou know as yet before I come to thee what the Son, the man destined on thy sum in it; become of me with the elements and of me will have dominion over them
Dominion in manus meo.
